

Write It Once

Lightweight documentation habits that outlast the sprint.

1. Capture decisions in the place work already happens.
2. Prefer checklists over essays for recurring tasks.
3. Link out; do not duplicate source-of-truth docs.
4. Expire stale pages with an owner and a date.
5. Teach the habit in onboarding, not in a wiki graveyard.

If it is not findable in thirty seconds, it does not exist.
